

Scope (Klein)

- « ...Two classes seem to represent the same concept, but do not have exactly the same instances, although these intersect. »

« The standard example is the class “employee”: several administrations use slightly different concepts of employee »