

Encoding (Bergman)

BE 25

- « Encoding mismatches can occur when either the import or export of data to XML assumes the wrong encoding type. While XML is based on Unicode, it is important that source retrievals and issued queries be in the proper encoding of the source. For Web retrievals this is very important, because only about 4% of all documents are in Unicode »